Pre-Ration Meat Buying Swamps Marion Markets

Marion meat dealers were virtually gasping for breath today as a public buying spree in advance of meat rationing mounted to new heights.

Yesterday most meat counters were in constant bedlam as customers "bought anything we had without even asking the price," a checkup by The Star this morning showed.

One store was obliged to close about 20 minutes ahead of its regular time because it had only a few odds and ends left. A new supply was received after closing hours, and the sales force this morning again plunged into the hectic business of trying to handle an overflow of customers.

One store got in some meat this morning, but customers kept the workers so busy they didn't even have time to put the meat in cases and refrigerators. The manager finally had to lock the door for awhile to enable his workers to place the meat in refrigerators.

Various markets estimated the volume of buying ranged from three to five times normal sales. Biggest demand was for cured ham, bacon and other meats.

Most shoppers started by ordering at the top of the list of desirable cuts of meat, and it took these were not available, ended up by buying whatever they could get. Some complained a little, but the dealers assured them they were making available everything they could get from packers.

One bright note in the situation was the opinion of several dealers that packers are getting set to make substantial deliveries over the week-end so that shoppers may have a good selection of meats to choose from when rationing begins.

They said the packers were doing a good job of trying to keep pace with the present abnormal demands, but apparently were also safeguarding supplies for rationing.

Davis To Form Land Army As New Director of Nation's Food Supply

War Summary
President Outlines Duties of New Agency Head; St. Louis Banker To Relieve Wickard of Authority Over Program.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 26—President Roosevelt today said that his new food administrator, Chester C. Davis, operating virtually an autonomous agency, would take up immediately the question of forming a land army to help turn out the nation's food supply.

At the same time, the Chief Executive told a press conference, 550,000 farm workers already had been deferred from military service and that Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey estimates that 3,000,000 additional people on the farms would be deferred this year.

In a lengthy discussion of farm problems, Mr. Roosevelt also said the war production board has taken steps to insure a greater supply of farm machinery to those who till the land.

Not only will some of the larger manufacturers be allowed to make such equipment, he said, but also an effort will be made to obtain more adequate distribution facilities for the smaller plants. Previously, the big manufacturers had been converted to war production and had stopped making farm machinery.

Releases Order
The President released today the executive order setting up the new office of food production and distribution, of which Davis will take charge on Monday. Davis will cooperate with Agriculture Secretary Wickard. Mr. Roosevelt said but in final decisions, Davis would come to him. This will remove nearly all phases of the wartime food program from Wickard's control and leave him to handle the old line bureaus of the agriculture department.

To make clear another point, the President said Davis also would have authority over farm prices.

On the question of a land army, the Chief Executive asserted this was one of the things Davis is going to take up upon his arrival in Washington. The Chief Executive cited Britain's success in increasing food production about 80 percent through the use of such an army.

He indicated it would have to be recruited from among high school boys and girls and women.

Soldier Furloughs
The farm labor supply in addition will be augmented, Mr. Roosevelt said, by the probable release on furlough of a great many thousands of servicemen. He said this would help very much in alleviating the labor shortage.

It is possible without too much disruption, he said, to furlough men in divisions which have been in training only three or four weeks. But he said it would be the army to break up combat divisions ready to leave, within two weeks for overseas duties.

Just what size a land army would take, the President did not say.

Breaking down the 2,000,000 man total of prospective deferred farm workers this year, the President said, 400,000 would be single and 2,000,000 married with wives or with wives and children. He did not account for the other 800,000.

The men deferred, he said, will be in the 18 to 37 age group.

Asked whether Davis would be able to act in his new job without the approval of the secretary of agriculture, Mr. Roosevelt said he did not think the issue would arise.

RUSSIAN DRIVE IN NORTH GAINS

Pressure on Smolensk Maintained; Reds Hold Positions in South.

By The Associated Press
MOSCOW, March 26—Before mounting German resistance, the Red army steadily pressed on in one sector of the western front today and halted to consolidate its positions in another, but the general pressure toward Smolensk was unrelenting.

On the northern Donets river battlefield, the Russians fought bitterly against large units of German armor, inflicting heavy losses and capturing a number of tanks and other equipment.

The Russian midnight communiqué as recorded by the London Soviet radio monitor declared that the Russian army had smashed German tanks and captured a number of tanks and other equipment.

NEW FOOD CHIEF. Control of the United States food production and supply has been placed in the hands of Chester C. Davis, former chief of the AAA and now president of the Federal Reserve bank at St. Louis. The Chief Executive's order said that Davis would administer all food production and distribution, including recruiting of farm labor.

MARK TIME ON BIG PROBLEMS

Food, Tax, Farm and Labor Issues Still in Debate Stage.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 26—Aid reports that the current food problem in the United States is being handled by a new group of officials, the food production and distribution administration, which is headed by Chester C. Davis.

The new group of officials is being formed by the President's executive order, which is expected to be signed today.

On the home front, the agriculture department held off further action on its war food program until the arrival of Chester C. Davis in Washington to take over his job as food production and distribution administrator.

The issuance of a White House order clarifying his relation to Secretary Wickard, President Roosevelt announced the appointment of Davis, president of the Federal Reserve bank of St. Louis, to head the new agency.

Information leaked among farm leaders was that Davis had agreed to accept the post only on the condition that he be the final authority on farm prices.

The tax abatement debate raged on in the house with both sides predicting victory in the battle over what part of a year's income taxes should be written off the nation's books in putting taxpayers on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Representative Knudsen (R-Minn.), leading the Republican group for a full year's abatement, said he would have to move.

However, he declared he felt an invasion blow or a group of them might come on the Atlantic coast of Europe first—possibly before the axis has been cleared out of North Africa. Some of the indications he cited in support of this included: (1) a crack army of 3,000,000 in England, not primarily for defense but waiting to invade; (2) the recent apparent jangle among the United Nations that included Stalin's charge that the Russian people weren't being told of the extent of American aid; (3) the extent of American aid to the Soviet Union; (4) the possible part of planned, psychological warfare arranged to mislead the enemy; (5) the air blows against Europe in recent weeks have been aimed more at transportation facilities than factories, crippling the war production.

Mr. Irwin, foreign affairs expert for the Plain Dealer, spoke on "The Twilight of the Axis," and centered his talk on possible methods of invading the European continent.

KEY POSITION SEIZED; U. S. TROOPS GAIN

Hill Overlooking Whole Gables Plain Now Held by Montgomery.

By The Associated Press
British 8th army assault troops, rallying from their initial setback, were reported today to have taken the key position overlooking the whole of the Gables plain, after beating off axis counterattacks.

Gables itself lies 20 miles north of the Mareth line.

To the northwest, American troops were reported holding strong mountain positions after 10-mile advance from the El Guestar oasis on the road to Gabes from Gafsa.

Frontline dispatches said the AEF contingent repulsed a German infantry attack and now commanded the Djebel Berda heights at the south side of El Guestar pass, 20 miles southeast of Gafsa.

The German high command summarized the campaign in two brief sentences:

"Threat of local importance carried out by a British-American formation on the Djebel Berda heights at the south side of El Guestar pass, 20 miles southeast of Gafsa."

One report said Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had been seen in the Gables area, but it was not clear whether he was there to command the German forces or to inspect the situation.

Public Has Little Use For Absentees, Poll Indicates

CAPT. EDDIE RICKENBACKER
By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., March 25.—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, who has been waging personal war against absenteeism in defense industries, can take comfort from the fact that the vast majority of the American people are hard on stiff penalties to men and women absenting themselves from war jobs without good cause.

The people of this country have been consistently stern-tempered toward all matters affecting America's war effort, and the majority feeling on the question of absenteeism is no exception.

In testifying before the House committee on naval affairs, Admiral Lamont pointed out that 64 per cent of the absenteeism in a special study was unexplained. The time lost, he reported, was equivalent to "100 Liberty ships per annum."

Serious Production Problem
To measure the public's attitude toward what is generally regarded as one of the most serious problems on the production front, the Institute had field representatives from coast to coast put the following question to men and women in all walks of life:

"What do you think should be done with workers in war factories who are regularly absent from work without good excuse?"

The most frequently mentioned suggestion—given by 48 per cent of those questioned—was to draft habitual men absentees into the Army, a step which hearkens back to the last war.

The "work or fight" attitude of the public is reflected in a bill introduced in the house of representatives by Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, requiring employers to turn over to draft boards the records of employees, habitually absent from war jobs without good cause, for draft reclassification. This penalty could not, of course, apply to women, who, studies have shown, are more inclined to absenteeism than men.

The second most frequently mentioned penalty—suggested by about 11 per cent—is that workers be laid off or discharged from their jobs. Many war plants have instituted policies of "enforced furloughs" for absenteeism without good excuse.

The remaining 32 per cent who mentioned penalties offered a variety of suggestions ranging from fines to jail sentences.

Comments Of Public
Although about one per cent of those questioned thought absenteeism without cause is non-existent and wanted no penalties, and eight per cent had no opinions, the temper of the great majority of the American public is revealed in the following verbatim comment gathered by field reporters from all over the country:

"Put 'em on the chain gang... Put a Hitler medal on them... They should be housechained... They are no better than spies... Put them in uniform and then send them back to the factory to work for $50 a month... They should be shot... Send them to work on Alaskan highways at hard labor... Dock them."

Maybe he takes a couple of bites and then switches off to a piece of pie or something! But it's easy to see his sandwiches ain't up to grade.

Me? I just reach in an' get one of those good eatin' sandwiches I know is there—an' then I go on to enjoy myself. Why? Well, Mary always makes my sandwiches with Omar Bread. ## PREDICTS PASSAGE OF JUDGES' PENSION

Measure Comes Up in Senate Next Week.

By The Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., March 16.—Advocates of a retirement system for judges expressed confidence today their bill would be passed by the Ohio senate next week.

The measure, which is a pension act, is expected to be passed by the senate next week. It was introduced by Sen. Carl D. Stephens (R-Hamilton) and is being considered in the senate.

The house of representatives, meanwhile, returned to approve proposed legislation which would allow practitioners of Christian Science and other denominations to accept fees. The vote was 57-57, with 49 favorably votes required for passage.

The senate sent to the house a bill creating a state fund for the aid of financially distressed school districts. It will contain approximately $1,500,000. The measure received the senate's unanimous approval.

Before the legislature adjourned for the week-end, the house Republican leader told house members to come prepared to work through Friday next week. The legislature usually adjourns on Thursday.

Phones Installed

on War Need Basis
By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 28.—Henceforth every householder who has a telephone installed does so with the understanding the telephone company can take it out if the instrument is needed for war purposes.

The war production board placed all telephone installations on this basis yesterday, simultaneously issuing new rules to aid farmers in getting telephone service as a means of boosting farm output and saving agricultural manpower. Electric power also was brought within reach of smaller farms by making any farm having a productive capacity of five "animal units"—a standard fixed by the agriculture department—eligible for service. Previously ten animal units were required. An extension up to 100 feet is permitted for each unit.

DEALERS MUST ABSORB EXTRA LIQUOR COSTS

Can't Increase Price for Out of State Purchases.

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, March 26—The consumer is not supposed to absorb the cost of bringing liquor across state lines, Edward C. Welsh, price executive of the regional office of price administration, declared today.

Welsh said large numbers of dealers in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan were going out of the state to Illinois, Wisconsin or New York for their supplies.

Transportation and handling charges, state taxes and markups in these "importing" transactions create a greater squeeze between the cost and the ceiling permitted by OPA price regulations than would exist through purchases made in normal home channels, Welsh explained.

He asserted it was a violation for dealers to pass the additional cost on to the drinker either in cash or in glasses with thicker bottoms.

As an example of the temptation with which dealers might be faced, Welsh said that an Ohio dealer bringing liquor into the state from Illinois could expect to have an increased cost of better than 30 per cent.

Welsh expressed the belief affected states soon would be forced to stem the outward flow of liquor to keep their own residents from experiencing a beverage shortage.

Texas Divorcee Held in Oklahoma Slaying

By The Associated Press

TULSA, Okla., March 26—A 44-year-old divorcee was held without charge today after Mrs. T. Karl Simmons, 55, widely known horsewoman was shot to death during an altercation in a hotel room.

The divorcee, Mrs. Ella B. Howard of Fort Worth, Tex., was questioned last night shortly after the shooting, and assistant county attorney M. S. Simms said she told him:

"I had checked into the Mayo hotel Wednesday night. I was in Tulsa on business. Tonight I heard a rap on the door and when I asked who was there, a woman answered, 'telegram.' I opened the door and Mrs. Simmons was standing there with a gun in her hand.

"She said, 'I am going to kill you.' I made a grab for the gun and it went off twice. Then we struggled over the gun and the next thing I knew she fell to the floor and I could see she was shot."

BRICKER AND LEADERS OF LEGISLATURE CONFER

Governor Says Assembly to Act On Bills.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., March 26—Gov. Bricker conferred an hour yesterday with legislative leaders and later expressed belief the legislature would move right along in passage of important bills. There has been some criticism that the assembly was getting too little done.

Bricker said a bill exempting food and prescription medicines from the state sales tax would come up for action shortly in the house. It was approved weeks ago by the senate but appeared stalled in the lower branch where, Bricker has admitted, much opposition arose.

"I can't conceive of any legislature refusing to go along on a tax reduction," Bricker remarked. The governor said the female labor bill, about which much protest has come from labor leaders, might come to a vote soon in the senate, but that amendments likely would be offered. He did not amplify what these might be. He also said he expected the senate to delete from the utility excise tax extension an amendment making the act expire Dec. 31, 1944. This likely will be advanced to March 31, 1945, he said.

Conferring with Bricker were

Frank S. Whittemore, Senate Floor Leader, and William H. McCulloch, majority leader in the house.

LaRue Group Honor Guests at Banquet

Ask Ohio Druggists To Release Quinine

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, March 26—Druggists throughout Ohio have been asked to release all the quinine they can spare to a "quinine pool" being set up by the American Pharmaceutical Association at the request of the Army, the Navy, and the war production board.

Dean Bernard V. Christensen of Ohio State University's College of Pharmacy announced. According to Dean Christensen, a past president of the National association, the armed forces are in desperate need of this essential drug, as so many men are stationed in areas where malaria is prevalent.

Large Soybean Crop Lost in Union County

MARYSVILLE, March 26—With time for planting new crops approaching, Union county farmers are faced with the harvesting of 4,157 acres of last year's crop of soybeans. The worse weather has been so hard on the crop that it is not likely that a majority of this acreage will be harvested, according to W. J. Renner, county agricultural agent.

Mr. Renner has advised farmers that warm weather may snail the beans to such a degree that it will not be advisable to harvest them although their oil is much needed for the war effort. He has pointed out that it is estimated that the beans are valued at $14 per acre if left on the field for fertilizer.

The crop yet to be harvested is estimated at 83,140 bushels or an average of 20 bushels to the acre. It is not possible to harvest any more of the crop it would mean a loss of about $145,000 to Union County farmers.

Farm Bureau Manager Quits in Union County

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, March 26—John Leeper of near Richwood has resigned as manager of the Union county Farm Bureau Cooperative Association effective April 15. A successor is to be named at a meeting of the board of directors tonight.

Mr. Leeper has purchased the milk route operating in the Essex and LaRue neighborhoods from Deputy Sheriff Robert Glendinning of Marysville. He will divide his time between the operation of his milk route and farming. Mr. Leeper has been connected with the farm bureau for eight years, the last two serving as manager.

Stickers Will Stick, If Put on Right, Sours Says

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 26—Only 1943 automobile license stickers will stick, Highway Director Hal G. Sours insisted today. He said he had received reports the stickers worked loose from windshields.

If the stickers are placed on a cold windshield out of doors in sub-freezing weather, a thin film of ice might form between the paper and glass," Sours said. "This also might occur if the sticker is applied in a garage and the car is taken out immediately." He recommended dipping the sticker in warm water to wet it instead of cold water. This preferably should be done in the owner's garage after car is put away for the night.

"Properly applied that sticker is on to stay," Sours remarked.

A National Geographic Society Bulletin.

FRENCH GUIANA, which has been given up by Vichy, has been the easternmost of the European "uplets" set in South America's north coast. It also is the least developed. The colony is next door to Surinam (Dutch Guiana) where United States troops were sent last year to safeguard valuable aluminum deposits from enemy seizure or sabotage. The other "uplets" is British Guiana. Tropical, mountainous and heavily forested except for the coastal lowlands, the colony has lagged behind the adjacent British and Dutch Guianas in commercial and industrial development. With only about 8,000 acres cultivated, stimulation of the use of the land has been a persistent government problem. Before the war, sugar, rum, hides, fish glue, and various woods were exported. The banana market was expanding. Cane, coconuts, and other products were being produced. In a move to open up the interior the French government, in 1930, made the hinterland a separate territory named Imini, and left its supervision to the colonial governor. Development was made difficult by lack of good roads and navigable waterways, and by the death of workers able to work the land. Small quantities of rice and other crops, together with rubber and bananas, have been marketed from the back country. Modern facilities of the colony included a meat transportation

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO.
It was Sunday, March 26, 1932. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Allen of East Farming street. Mrs. Sarah Frances Hood, 56, died at her home on Lee street. James L. Ellison, 87, of Mt. Victory, father of H. B. Ellison of Unclapher avenue, died at the home of a daughter in St. Louis, Mo. The twenty-ninth birthday anniversary of E. J. Beaver and the eightieth anniversary of S. T. Porter were celebrated at a dinner in the Beaver home on Dix avenue. A neighborhood party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hildner of Orchard street complemented them, on their recent return from Long Beach, Calif., and other points in the west. Miss Mary Louise Rutherford of the Beaver-Foster road north of Marion left to take a position in Dayton. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williams of Elaine avenue entertained in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Williams' mother, Mrs. N. H. Hildner of West Columbia street. Charles Cooper of the Keener pike entertained at dinner for the pleasure of his son, Donald Cooper of Philadelphia, who was a weekend guest at his home. Miss Gancie Holl, student nurse at White Cross hospital, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Findling of the Campbell road. Miss Alma McDaniel returned to Ohio State University after spending the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. McDaniel of Pearl street. William C. Kuenzi, 79, former Wyandot county sheriff died at his home in Nevada.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.
It was Monday, March 26, 1912. Plans to get the government out of the shipping business by providing for immediate sale to private interests of vessels being operated by the government at an annual loss of $500,000 were handed to the U. S. shipping board by the American Steamship Owners' association. The owners had been asked to submit plans following defeat of the ship subsidy bill in congress. A news dispatch from St. Augustine, Fla., reported political advisors of President Harding were "greatly pleased" by the reaction to the announcement of his candidacy in 1924. A flood of congratulatory messages from all parts of the country was reported. Rumors previously had been started that Mr. Harding would not seek reelection. News reports from Paris told of the death of Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, world renowned actress, at her home there. Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd of East Farming street, to Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Whitman of Congress street and to Mr. and Mrs. Don Staley of Merkle avenue. The Lecture-Recital club chorus gave its final program of the season at Central Junior High school. Charles L. Collier directed the singing and Miss Helen Zuck and Mrs. R. O. Bresler were accompanists. Walberg Brown and Bertram Myers played a violin obligato for one of the numbers. The Searchlight club met with Mrs. A. H. Walters of Bain avenue. The board of Epworth M. E. church formally invited Dr. Jesse Swank to return another year as pastor.

How To Cause Riot
By The Associated Press
PUEBLO, Colo. — There was never a dull moment after W. A. Flynn, department store manager, placed 30 dozen pairs of women's nylon hosiery on sale. Even the police couldn't hold back the crowds. Two glass display cases were broken and two others pushed over. Carpenters had to be called to make emergency reinforcements so that the counters wouldn't be crushed. Seven hundred women reached the display cases to compete for the 360 pairs and another 300 milled about the locked doors.

How To Halt Absenteeism

Practical View of Situation by WPB Official.

By WENDELL LUND
Director, Labor Production Division, War Production Board.
ABSENTEEISM in war industry is not the simple problem of the payday drunk, of the worker whose swollen wallet tempts him to take a day off and get rid of some of it. For example... Mary Smith was a department supervisor in an airplane factory in Los Angeles. Fond of her work, eager to do her share in the war effort, she kept things rolling on schedule. But troubles piled up at home. Her husband was busy at a lathe in another factory. Her sister managed to keep an eye on her three youngsters, but she herself didn't get much chance to be with them. Stores in her neighborhood closed at 6 p. m. She didn't get home until 7. It was pretty tough in shop. And this week she was behind. She hadn't a chance to get housework done. Dirty laundry was piling up. The youngest came down with a cold. She stayed home two days to catch up... John Brown worked in the shipyards at Newport News, "batched" in a noisy, crowded rooming house. Exhausted from the strain of a job new to him, he couldn't get enough rest off-shift. His only acquaintances were nearby workers in the plant. His family, wife and two children were in Charleston, W. Va. They couldn't find a place in Newport. Spring came, with it homesickness. Brown's day off was Sunday. This particular one, he hopped a train for Charleston to spend the day with his family. Getting a real rest at home was so good that he stayed three days. He figured it was worth losing two days' pay, but it cost Uncle Sam two days of needed work... THOSE are just two examples of the causes of one of the biggest American war production problems today, a problem that can be solved only one way—through community cooperation in the "boom-towns" which have mushroomed since the war. That very mushrooming, a government survey recently showed, is the real cause behind the mounting tide of absenteeism. It's a problem involving housing shortage; lack of time for needed shopping; inadequate transportation; care of a married woman trying to do her job and run her home, too.

Unlucky Day Delayed
By The Associated Press
DENVER — Patrolman R. R. Richardson accosted a young fellow who displayed the earmarks of liquor drinking. "I'm just celebrating," said the fellow. "Yesterday was the 13th of the month. That's my unlucky day. Always something happens to me on that day. But yesterday nothing happened. So I'm celebrating." Then he caught a glimpse of Richardson's badge. It was No. 13. The police patrol car also was numbered 13. "I give up!" said the prisoner as Richardson carted him away on a charge of drunkenness.

Baseball Courage

Big League Magnates Plunge Into Unknown: Players May Be Rejected Before It's Over.

By DAMON RUNYON

I GUESS the first opinion she follows in a country is to see a baseball magnate. They are the men who are training the players as if they were to play the game in 1947 and the way through the war. They are the men who are training the players as if they were to play the game in 1947 and the way through the war.

I have seen the magnates' due credit for the games in the past. I have seen the magnates' due credit for the games in the past. I have seen the magnates' due credit for the games in the past. I have seen the magnates' due credit for the games in the past.

I am convinced that at least half the civilian railroad travel of today is wholly unnecessary—that people are traveling just because they have the money and the inclination. The contention would be established by an official interrogation of each traveler as to the purpose of his journeying, as was done with motorists in some states after gas rationing.

The trains running between the coasts and everywhere else in the nation are packed jammed with people strictly on pleasure bent. If the extra pressure was removed, the transportation of the ball club would be fairly easy, yet the travelers might reasonably argue that they have as much right to travel for pleasure as the club have for public amusement. I doubt that all the military travel, save in troop movements and for individuals on official missions, is essential. It is quite possible that some of the military also travel for pleasure, though what pleasure they can find in standing up in the crowded trains for long distances is slightly beyond me.

EVEN the matter of transportation of the ball players from their hotels to the ball yards may provide difficulties because of the gas rationing but of course they can always go back to the old-time open horse-drawn hacks of the pre-taxi period of the game. I think that was a most picturesque method of haulage as the pastimers usually dressed in the hotels and wore their uniforms enroute to the yards, but it was fraught with some peril. The infuriated inmates of Philadelphia lined the streets after a game one day and pegged rocks at the open hack-riding Giants, while Roger Bresnahan sitting up with the driver and catching the rocks and pegging them back with fine effect until he got beamed and was toppled from his perch. Frank Bowerman was riding in the back seat of the hack and a particular, crafty Philadelphia sneaked up behind the vehicle, removed Bowerman's hard straw hat with one hand and with the other plopped a brick on Frank's unprotected noggin with considerable force. Oddly enough, the fan then politely replaced Frank's hat before fleeing and presently Frank's head began swelling and raising the lid until it was higher than if he had two foreheads. Some of the infuriated inmates then got the impression he was tipping his bonnet to them and ceased firing, which saved the day. (Copyright, 1943, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

So They Say

It is the duty of every citizen to examine into his own life and his own community and see whether production in industry and on the farm cannot be increased enormously, whether absenteeism, threatened strikes, general complacency, insistence on "business as usual," or even insistence on hoped-for standards of living are not going a long way to prevent what could be accomplished by an all-out war effort.—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson.

We misjudge the highest nature of man when we think that if we can keep him fed and secure under his own roof, let him say what he likes and go to church on Sunday, that he will be content. He will not be content anywhere in the world until he lives a free man in a free country, his people free in a world of men free.—Pearl S. Buck, author.

A victory with vengeance is ultimate defeat in the modern world. We can have peace or we can have revenge, but we cannot have both. A nation can be punished as a whole and at the same time leave any hope for a lasting peace.—Herbert Hoover.

You can't win a war without fighting the strongest must do it. But short of that, every man, woman and child who is in the fighting forces.—Capt. Jack Nickerson.

Ghost Fighters

Associated Press Features.
CAMP PICKETT, Va.—So you want to be like Uncle Sam's "ghost fighters"? Then step right this way and see if you meet the requirements. All you have to be certain civilian abilities, patience and a proof digestive organ. If you make the grade, you may be sent to Camp Pickett or to Camp Grant, Ill., or to the four places where "ghost fighters" are needed by the army. The "ghosts" are plague and disease. Already thousands of "ghost fighters"—military technicians—are stationed in a hundred different places from the sands of North Africa to the malaria-ridden swamps of New Guinea to the insect-plagued plateaus of the South Islands. Thousands more are being trained. They start their daily schedule early in the morning with lectures. After lunch, on practice, the soldiers carry on actual "maneuvers" learning how to fight diseases of every description. They spend several hours every day constructing latrines, garbage disposal pits, showers and other standard field sanitation installations. The "ghost fighters" search out mosquito breeding areas, and study such rampant destroyers as bubonic plague, sleeping sickness and typhus. In brief, the "ghost fighters" have agreed to them part of the burden of keeping American soldiers fit to fight and fit to take their place once more in civilian life after the war is over.

Then I found my constipation was due to lack of "bulk" in my diet. And I also found out that KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN gets at the cause of such constipation and corrects it.

Boy, what I'd been missing before I tried ALL-BRAN! It's a well-tasting breakfast cereal—and, as far as my constipation was concerned, it sure worked.

I eat ALL-BRAN regularly now and drink plenty of water. And — I've "Joined the Regulars!" Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

CINCINNATI, O., March 25 — Fat salvagers scored the greatest gains in the nation in the first month of 1943, enough to produce 84,217 pounds of high explosive nitro-glycerine. Despite this increase, Ohio's quota is more than a million pounds monthly.

Ohio Soldier Finds
He Needs Pass To Wed
By The Associated Press
BRYAN, Tex., March 25 — A soldier sometimes needs more than a girl and ring to get married.
Staff Sgt. E. M. Hufford and Betty C. Welser, both of Lancaster, O., were the first couple to wed in the Army air forces instrument instructors' school's chapel.
Before leaving Bryan for the field, Hufford checked if everything was in order—his bride-to-be, witnesses and ring.
At the field he discovered one important thing was lacking. He forgot to get a pass for Betty to enter the post.
The wedding was performed somewhat late.

House Committee Aid Charges Activities Shocking.
By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 25 — Robert F. Kline, counsel for the house naval committee, said yesterday "in spite of all the fanfare, there still flourished in Washington and throughout the country many sales agents" who are receiving amounts "so excessive that they will shock the conscience not only of this committee, but of congress and the American public."
As the committee opened a new inquiry into methods for curbing profits of commission agents, Kline presented as his first witness W. Lester Baker and his wife, Catherine. Kline said they operated as a partnership on a commission for basis and that their gross earnings amounted to $28,276 in 1942.
Outlining the evidence he said he would develop during the hearings, the committee counsel asserted:

Annual Election Held; Membership Gain Reported.

Harry G. Baker was elected commander of the coming year at a meeting of Veterans Post No. 313, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Thursday night. He will succeed Nerval V. Foreman, now serving as commander, who was named quartermaster.

Elected with the new commander were Robert Stead, senior vice commander; Carlos T. Tupper, junior vice commander; Frank Thurston, judge advocate; William Kehrwecker, chaplain; Wallace Daly, trustee for 18 months; Clyde Porter, trustee for 12 months; Ivan E. Wittenbaker, now serving as a trustee, was named to succeed himself for a period of six months. The members voted to continue the use of the present name for the post.

Officers will be installed April 14 when James Shuff of Dunkirk, district commander, will conduct the installation. Other district officers also will be present. At this time the newly-elected commander will name his committee.

James Cusick, membership chairman, reported the largest gain in membership this year in the history of the organization, the figures showing a 124 per cent gain over the quota assigned. A letter was received from national headquarters reporting that, to date, the Veterans of Foreign Wars had enlisted 11,000 aviation cadets for the government. The men were accepted from 21,000 applicants throughout the country. According to the report the veterans group has been authorized by the U. S. Army to continue this activity and were highly praised for their work. Wallace Daly, chairman of the Trainer Plane fund, presented a citation to the commander of the post, an honor he had received for the organization's part in the $150,000 contribution to the government. The citation will be hung in the post headquarters. Announcement was made that the social committee, headed by J. A. Uline, will serve a lunch at the next meeting. A fish supper was served to 48 members by Mrs. N. V. Foreman and Mrs. Nevada Roberts.

JUDGE BEN B. LINDSEY DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Was Founder of Famed Children's Court Procedure.

By The Associated Press LOS ANGELES, March 26 — Superior Judge Ben B. Lindsey, long a prominent California and Colorado jurist, died at Good Samaritan hospital.

Judge Lindsey entered the hospital for emergency treatment Wednesday night, his widow, Mrs. Henrietta Lindsey, disclosed. The previous day he had occupied the bench in the children's court of conciliation, which he founded some years ago.

He first became widely known as a juvenile court judge in Denver, Colo., and was credited with originating children's court procedure which was copied widely.

Judge Lindsey was 73 years old, having been born in Jackson, Tenn., Nov. 25, 1869. He was famous as a writer and lecturer as a jurist.

A lifelong campaigner for political reforms, he frequently was embroiled in battles and one such controversy led to his removal from his court post in Denver in 1927.

He was an authority on domestic problems, and once stirred a fierce controversy by his advocacy of companionate marriage. He was always careful to emphasize that he did not mean this as "free love."

Disaster Preparedness Committee Of Marion Co. Red Cross Hears Expert

Duties of Organization in Event of Catastrophe Outlined by Eastern Area Representative.

Mrs. Maudine Blalock, disaster representative for the eastern area of the American Red Cross, spoke at the Marion county committee on disaster preparedness and relief at a meeting Thursday night in the Marion County Red Cross building.

She outlined in detail the Red Cross plan of disaster preparedness and the cooperation between the Red Cross and civilian defense and public health and welfare departments in a time of disaster.

The job of the committee, Mrs. Blalock said, is to lay plans to prevent suffering and meet human needs in the event of a disaster. In case of a natural disaster, the Red Cross is responsible for everything while in a catastrophe caused by enemy action the civilian defense and defense welfare agencies are in charge and it is the duty of the Red Cross only to meet the food, shelter and clothing needs of the unharmed.

Phases of Work She stated that every disaster is divided into two phases, the emergency period, during which relief is given on a mass basis and the rehabilitation period. Mrs. Blalock emphasized that the Red Cross never assumes governmental duties such as fighting fires, directing traffic, clearing debris or burying the dead but is concerned with the needs of the resources and efforts of governmental agencies and help with governmental duties. This is done only at the request of the governmental agencies after other resources have been exhausted.

Relief is given only to disaster sufferers and is given outright and not as a loan. The relief is based on the need and not the loss. Mrs. Blalock said, and is given in whatever form serves the victims best. Whenever possible, expenditures for relief are made through the normal trade channels of the local community rather than importing merchandise in large quantities from outside the affected area. She pointed out that with the help given by the Red Cross there is no discrimination as to race, politics or religion since the funds for the organization come from no one group.

Subcommittees' Duties Mrs. Blalock then outlined the duties of the subcommittees of the committee on disaster preparedness and relief. The survey committee should as well acquainted with the area and its disaster hazards and when the catastrophe strikes it is its duty to determine the type of disaster, the amount and extent of the damage and the general conditions.

The rescue committee should have a knowledge of the facilities and equipment available to help with the rescue and make arrangements for the use of such facilities in case of a catastrophe. It is also its duty to assist the responsible governmental agencies in warning, evacuation and rescue work.

A study of the medical, hospital and nursing resources should be made by the medical aid committee and a plan set up to supplement the local facilities. The duties of the shelter committees include locating available shelters and arranging for their use, checking the capacity, sanitary conditions, heating facilities and equipment of the shelters and locating storage space for supplies.

Food Committee's Job The food committee should determine the personnel qualified to handle and prepare food and the places where supplies can be procured at any time. The clothing committee should make the same surveys concerning clothing.

A survey of the transportation and communications facilities available should be made by the transportation and communications committee and arrangements made for the cooperation of commercial agencies.

It is the duty of the registration and information committee to train personnel in the use of forms, answering inquiries, interviewing applicants, issuing emergency relief and keeping records.

The central purchase and supply committee is in control of bulk purchases and general relief supplies. It should arrange for the storing and handling of supplies, maintain inventories, price schedules and lists of needed supplies.

Mrs. Blalock spoke to the members of the clothing and
